

Litigator's Expert Witness Profiles

Coming soon -- Litigator's Expert Witness Profiles will feature NEW "Fee/Cost" information, which aims to eliminate the hassle of making numerous phonecalls, navigating unfamiliar websites, and waiting for email replies otherwise needed to find the right expert.

Conveniently and prominently displayed, this new helpful information will inform Litigator subscribers of items such as: hourly rates, conditions that may apply, cost-estimation considerations, fee structures, and more!

(Please note: While every expert will have been invited to provide Fee/Cost information, the new field will only appear on the profiles of the experts who do so provide.)

Fee/Cost Details: Fee details include: The firm's hourly rate is $190. Depending on heads of damage, type of file, employment status of claimant, and material to review, files takes as long as 20 to 45 hours to complete ($3800 to $8550 plus GST). The higher end relates to multiple heads of damage (loss of income, cost of care & tax gross-up); self-employed plaintiffs; or fatality cases. Court testimony is billed at $275 per hour based on having testified as an expert witness on more than 110 occasions over 17 years across Canada, and in the US. Brown Economic also offers preliminary, cost-effective on-line estimates with its Income Damages Calculator, with past income loss calculations @ $375 and past & future loss income calculations @ $895 - for all provinces (except Quebec). See www.browneconomic.com > economic calculators > Income Damages Calculator.
