With new Graphical KeyCite, getting a quick view of direct history is as easy as one click.

You can access the graphical view with just a click of the Graphical KeyCite icon when you're researching the history of a case.

WestlawCARSWELL makes research easier.

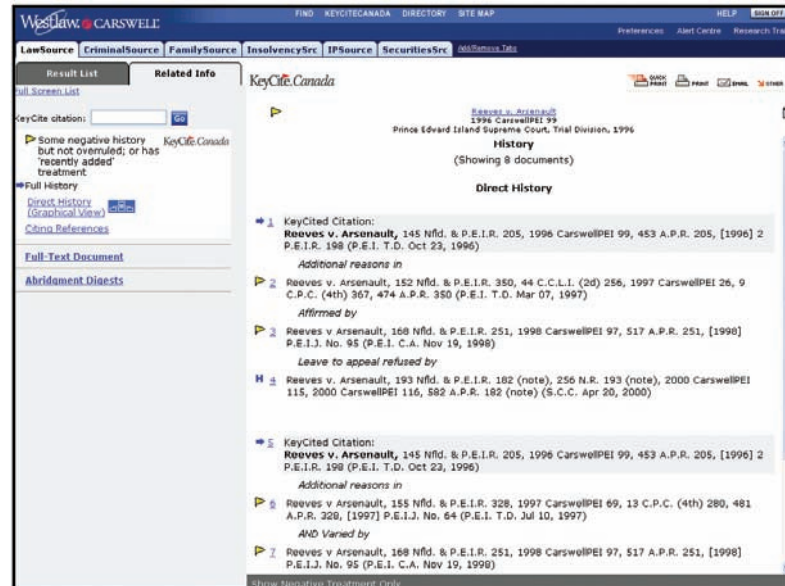

New Graphical KeyCite® provides one more reason for researchers to prefer WestlawCARSWELL®. Every year, our editors analyze tens of thousands of decisions that form the backbone of KeyCiteCanada. The editors add all correlative citations as they become available to make sure the information you search is as thorough, accurate, and current as it can be.

Why KeyCiteCanada:

- Unmatched historical depth: contains case treatments from Carswell's authoritative Canadian Case Citations service, which has been treating cases for the last 80 years
- Includes Citing references from Commentary: not only those occurring in other cases, but also references in treatises, the CED, journals and law reviews, and ICLL
- Includes Commonwealth (Australia, Hong Kong) treatments: you can also note up any case on Westlaw (including US and UK) with Canadian judicial treatments and see both Canadian and non-Canadian treatments for that decision
- Note up tribunal decisions: note up not only judicial decisions, but tribunal and commission decisions as well
- Limit citing references: limit the results you get by jurisdiction, date, court level or document type; use KeyCite Locate to search within your KeyCite results to find documents containing a particular word, combination of words or phrase

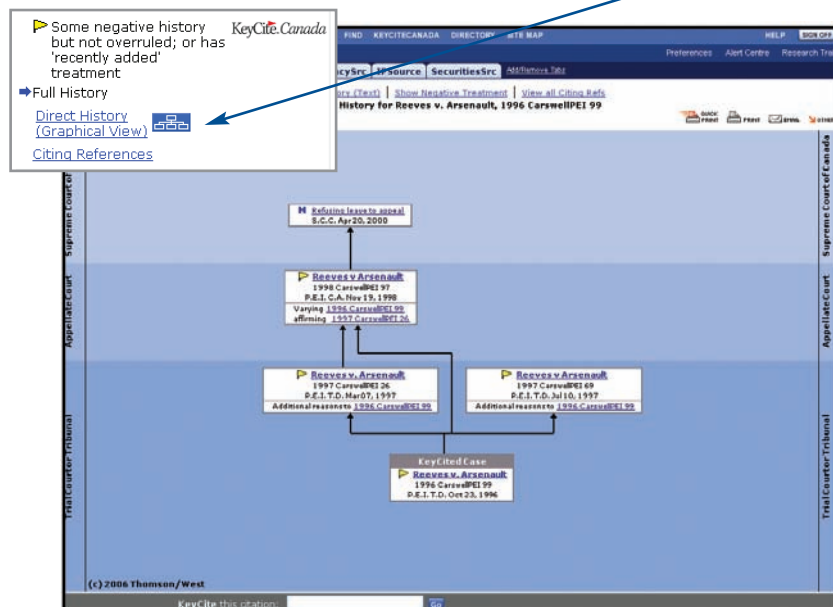

How does it work?

Start with a case, for example: 1996 Carswell PEI 99.

As always, KeyCiteCanada brings up the case history in text format so you can scan through the list of decisions involved in a chain of litigation.

Now, with Graphical KeyCite, you just click the link or icon ...

...and get a "picture" of the direct case history all in one screen. It's a fast, easy way to comprehend direct history at a glance.

Comprehend.

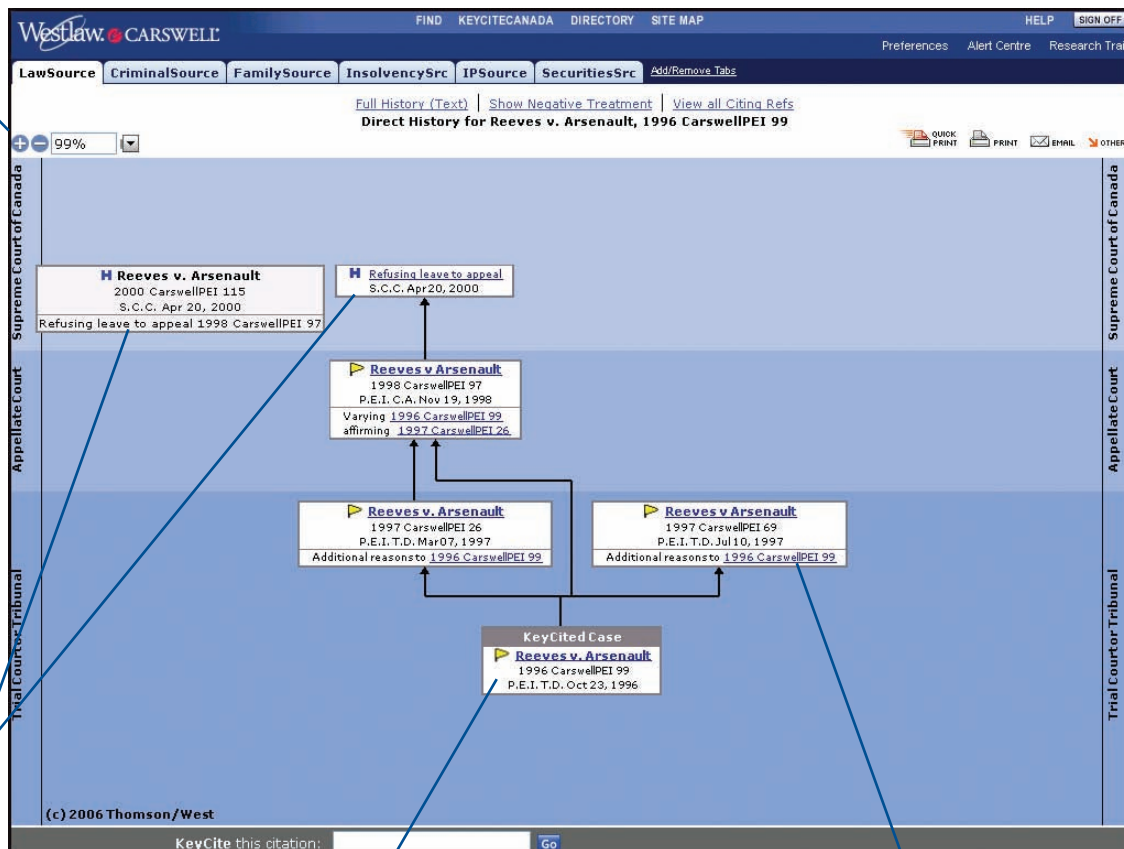

How can it help me?

Graphical KeyCite is simply the fastest way to understand the direct history of a case. Everything you need to see is on one, easy-to-read display, so you save the time of scrolling through long lists of text.

Enlarged case boxes appear when you roll your cursor over them (when zoom level is below 90%)

Visually depicts how a case has moved through the court system; lowest courts are at the bottom and highest court at the top

For a closer look at a procedural box, just roll over it, and the case title and cite information appear

Graphical KeyCite clearly labels the case you KeyCited. Cited cases and court documents are linked directly to WestlawCARSWELL; just click on the link, view the document or case, and click right back to the graphical view

A case's cite, title, jurisdiction, date, and history treatments are displayed in each case box

And, when you're done with the graphical view, you can return to the standard text view to check the negative indirect history and citing references, so your research is complete.
